POLICEMAN AND MAID.

The Young Woman Treated by the Other with Great Dignity and Success.

An austere and inexorable policeman stood on the northeast corner of Fifth avenue and Forty-sixth street yesterday and raised stolidly the arrest on the opposite side of the way. He had the air of solidity and reserve power common to members of the force.

A trim maid, wearing a calico dress, a white apron, a French cap, and a ribboned smile, emerged from a neighboring house and tripped toward the policeman. She nodded pleasantly, with an expression of deep respect.

The policeman wheeled about and stared at her coolly and impassively. "It's a fine weather we're havin'," said the maid, cheerfully but firmly.

The policeman looked her over solemnly. He was a tall, dark man, with a stern expression. He was a tall, dark man, with a stern expression. He was a tall, dark man, with a stern expression.

GREAT ATHLETIC MEETING.

Scratch Men in Tight Places—Protecting Against Myers' Best Jumping.

Admirers and representatives of athletic games poured into Madison Square Garden last evening until there were 4,000 persons in all. Many ladies and gentlemen well known in society sat in the boxes and reserved seats. The attraction was the annual winter meeting of the Manhattan Athletic Club, the proceeds to be used in sending four American amateur champions to England the coming season.

The track was very low and soft and slippery in places, making extraordinary time in the 100-yard dash. The 100-yard dash was won by Myers, T. J. Murphy, M. A. 40 yards, beat the record of 10 seconds.

Business Notices.

Jan. 1, 1921, and having tried various remedies without benefit, I thought me of the above-named remedy.

ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER is a complete cure for all ailments of the stomach, and worn there for ten days, have completely cured me of dyspepsia and sour stomach. I have also been troubled with pain in my back and side, but I have found nothing so effective as ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER. In from three to five days they make a complete cure.

ALBERT J. SMITH.

There can be no doubt that the great mass meeting of citizens held at the Cooper Institute last Thursday night in favor of the Roosevelt bill, giving the Mayor power to make appointments without confirmation by the Board of Aldermen, will have a most wholesome effect. Under the present system nobody can be held responsible, and inquiry is smothered in a bank of official fog.

A Mayor without power is like a corporal plaster of the brand of the "1848" or like any of the large family of which it is the type—torpid, feeble, apologetic, and irresponsible. Both the old-fashioned Mayors and the old-fashioned plasters must go. In the healing art, as in politics, people demand something positive and direct. Business people. Life is short. Folk can't wait for sleeping pills.

ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER is a product of the present progressive age. They possess every excellence which can be drawn from the resources of modern chemical and pharmaceutical science. In curative qualities they are absolutely without rival, being prompt, penetrating, and powerful, yet gentle and pleasant in their action. Known and endorsed everywhere. Cheap imitations are offering on all sides. Look out sharply for them. Especially watch unscrupulous dealers who try to pass them on the unsuspecting, saying "They are just the same as Alcock's," knowing they mistake the fact.

In the genuine is cut the word "Alcock." Ask for "Alcock's." Price 25 cents. Seabury & Johnson, Manufacturers.

Consumption Cured by Petroleum.—Our new preparation of Petroleum is a complete cure for all ailments of the throat and lungs. Samples and full directions by mail to physicians and druggists. ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER, 100 Broadway, New York.
